South-Carolina GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 9, 1770.

Charles-Town, Aug. 6, 1770.

AT a SPECIAL Meeting of the candid and truly virtuous Members belonging to the SELECT BACHELORS SOCIETY, held this Evening, at the Houſe of Mr. Michael K——n in King-Street, in Order to determine on an Anſwer to a ſcurrilous Advertiſement in Mr. Timothy's Gazette of the 2d Inſtant; and, after many learned Arguments and Witticiſms, we have unanimouſly reſolved, That a CARD ſhall be inſerted in Mr. Crouch's Paper, preſenting our Compliments to the impartial Public, and to the Authors of the ſaid Advertiſement, humbly requeſting them not to credit the FACTS in the ſaid Publication: For, notwithſtanding the Card we intend to inſert in Mr. Crouch's Paper, we cannot deny, but that the Chair is filled with INSINCERITY and PARTIALITY, unſupported by either FRIENDSHIP, WISDOM, or VIRTUE! Therefore, as thoſe Charges againſt us are JUST, and cannot be contradicted (with Safety) we deem them "unworthy of OUR Notice."

As for the Nota Bene, we are under an abſolute Neceſſity of declaring it to be FALSE (although we are not able to diſprove the Authenticity of it, on Account of the Exiſtence of OUR Sixteenth Rule) as it has wounded the Vitals of this NOW expiring honourable Society; therefore hope the impartial Public will think it "as SCANDALOUS as IT IS FALSE.

By Order of the Preſident,
ROBERT, the SON of WILL, Secretary.

N. B. The Select Society did not intend the above REAL Particulars, concerning their ſpecial Meeting, ſhould have been laid before the Public, but to their Credit be it ſaid, there is STILL ONE CANDID Member remaining amongſt them, who has thought proper to ſtrip thoſe Wolves of their Lambs Cloathing, and expoſe them to public View and Cenſure. An ENEMY to CELIBACY.

LONDON, MAY 21.

THE Duke of Richmond on Friday moved in an auguſt aſſembly, that in ſeveral of his Majeſty's colonies in North-America, diſorders have of late prevailed, prejudicial to the trade and commerce of this kingdom, and deſtructive to the peace and proſperity of the ſaid colonies, which was objected to, and Lord Hillſborough moved to adjourn. This motion was ſtrongly oppoſed by the above-mentioned noble Duke, Lord Temple, Lord Lyttelton, and Lord Shelburne. The queſtion being put, there appeared for the motion to adjourn 75, againſt it 31.

Impeachments were very loudly talked of in a certain aſſembly, on Friday laſt.

The Queen's Palace, St. James's Park, May 22, 1770.

This morning, between eight and nine o'clock, the Queen was happily delivered of a Princeſs. Her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs Dowager of Wales, his Grace the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, ſeveral Lords of his Majeſty's moſt honourable Privy Council, and the Ladies of her Majeſty's bed-chamber, were preſent.

Her Majeſty is, God be praiſed, as well as can be expected; and the young Princeſs is in perfect health.

This event was immediately made known by the firing of the Tower guns.

MAY 24.

In the courſe of the laſt ſeſſions his Majeſty went ſeven times to the Houſe of Peers, and gave the royal aſſent to 209 public and private bills.

Tueſday his Excellency Walter Paterſon, Eſq; chief Governor of the Iſland of St. John, in the Bay of Fundy, ſet out of town for Portſmouth, in order to embark for his ſaid government.

MAY 25.

Wedneſday the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor, attended by the three aldermen, Stephenſon, Trecothick, and Croſby, and two ſheriffs, together with the city officers, and ſeventy-five of the common-council, went in about fifty coaches to St. James's, in order to preſent to his Majeſty the city's ſecond Addreſs, Petition and Remonſtrance.

To which his MAJESTY, ſeated on the Throne, read the following Anſwer:

"I ſhould have been wanting to the public, as well as to myſelf, if I "had not expreſſed my diſſatisfaction at the late addreſs.

"My ſentiments on that ſubject continue the ſame; and I ſhould ill "deſerve to be conſidered as the father of my people, if I could ſuffer "myſelf to be prevailed upon to make ſuch an uſe of my prerogative, as I "cannot but think inconſiſtent with the intereſt, and dangerous to the "conſtitution of the kingdom."

The Right Hon. the Lord Mayor then addreſſed his Majeſty in theſe words:

"Moſt gracious Sovereign,

"WILL your Majeſty be pleaſed ſo far to condeſcend as to permit the Mayor of your loyal city of London to declare in your royal preſence, on behalf of his fellow-citizens, how much the bare apprehenſion of your Majeſty's diſpleaſure would, at all times, affect their minds; the declaration of that diſpleaſure has already filled them with inexpreſſible anxiety and with the deepeſt affliction. Permit me, Sire, to aſſure your Majeſty, that your Majeſty has not in all your dominions any ſubjects more faithful, more dutiful, or more affectionate to your Majeſty's perſon and family, or more ready to ſacrifice their lives and fortunes in the maintenance of the true honour and dignity of your crown.

"We do therefore, with the greateſt humility and ſubmiſſion, moſt earneſtly ſupplicate your Majeſty, that you will not diſmiſs us from your preſence without expreſſing a more favourable opinion of your faithful citizens, and without ſome comfort, without ſome proſpect, at leaſt of redreſs.

"Permit me, Sire, farther to obſerve, that whoever has already dared, or ſhall hereafter endeavour by falſe inſinuations and ſuggeſtions to alienate your Majeſty's affections from your loyal ſubjects in general, and from the city of London in particular, and to withdraw your confidence in and regard for your people, is an enemy to your Majeſty's perſon and family, a violator of the public peace, and a betrayer of our happy conſtitution, as it was eſtabliſhed at the glorious and neceſſary revolution."

After the delivery of the remonſtrance on Wedneſday at St. James's, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, Common Council, &c. had the honour of kiſſing his Majeſty's hand.

The humility and ſerious firmneſs with which the Lord Mayor uttered certain words on Wedneſday, filled the auditors with admiration and confuſion; for they found very different countenances amongſt the citizens to what they expected from Lord Pomfret's deſcription, who declared in the houſe of Lords, that "however ſwaggering and impudent the behaviour of the low citizens might be on their own dunghill, when they came into the royal preſence, their heads hung down like bullruſhes, and they blinked with their eyes like owls at the rays of the ſun."

Wedneſday, as was expected, the levee at St. James's was very full.

Mr. Wilkes dined at the London tavern on Tueſday, when upwards of thirty members attended. He thanked the Supporters of the Bill of Rights in the warmeſt terms for the ſupport and aſſiſtance he had experienced from them, and aſſured them of his unalterable zeal and attachment to the cauſe which they had undertaken.

Lord Temple, who ſome time ago bought up a mortgage upon Mr. Wilkes's eſtate, has ſince that gentleman's enlargement, made it a preſent to him, by which means his present income is not less than 1200l. per annum.

A gentleman of the turf, who died lately of the stone, has left his fortune, which is very considerable, to the celebrated Charlotte Hayes: Among this is his horse Eclipse.

MAY 26.

A certain minister is highly pleased with the discreet, moderate, and decent behaviour of a popular gentleman since his enlargement; and he declared at a certain table at the west end of the town, on Wednesday last, that a great personage had taken particular notice of his conduct.

There is now living in the parish of Wigan, in Lancashire, one Fairbrother, aged 138 years. The youngest of his four sons is now 104 years old, and the father still follows the trade of a cooper.

MAY 29.

It is said, that a process was actually issued out of the Exchequer against Lord Holland, requiring that nobleman to make up his accounts; and it is also said, that he has already acknowledged the receipt of forty three millions, but that the account of disbursements for thirty eight millions only are yet delivered in, so that five millions remain to be accounted for. The balance, however, when the whole is brought in, it is thought will be very inconsiderable.

Mr. Wilkes, we are informed, as soon as his present business in the city is a little over, intends to set out on his proposed tour through England.

We are assured that Mr. Wilkes will not go further northward in his tour than Newcastle, notwithstanding he has received invitations from gentlemen beyond that place.

Yesterday William De Grey, Esq; his Majesty's Attorney-General, moved the Court of King's Bench for the discharge of Mr. Bingley, alledging, that his having suffered two years imprisonment, was sufficient for any offence he had been guilty of. This was acceded to by the Court, and he was brought to the bar, and there set at liberty.

MAY 30.

The following reversions, places, and pensions, are said to have been within these few months granted: To the Lord Mountstuart, the reversion of the Auditorship of the Impress, after the death of Mr. Aislabie, 7000l. per annum. To Charles Jenkinson, Esq; Auditor of the Accounts of the Princess Dowager of Wales, and late confidential secretary to the Earl of Bute, the Reversion, after Sir Edward Walpole, of Clerkship of the Pells 3000l. per annum. To Samuel Martyn, Esq; Treasurer to the Princess Dowager, the Reversion, after Horace Walpole, Esq; of Usher of the Exchequer 2000l. per annum. To the Earl of Nottingham, now Teller of the Exchequer, the Reversion, after the Duke of Chandois, for three lives, of Master of the Hanaper, 3000l. per annum, and 4000l. per annum pension till it falls. To Thomas Bradshaw, Esq; Secretary to the Treasury, the Reversion of Surveyor General of America, 2000 l. per Annum; and to Jeremiah Dyson, Esq; a pension for three lives of 1000 l. per annum. To Sir Fletcher Norton, Knt. Lord Chief Justiceship in Eyre, with the augmented salary for life of 2500 l. per annum. To Hans Stanley, Esq; the united offices of Cofferer and Governor of the Isle of Wight, 3600 l. per annum.

MAY 31.

Yesterday the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor, accompanied by most of the Alderman, the Sheriffs, Common-Council-Men, and City Officers, went to St. James's, and presented the following congratulatory address to his Majesty, on the birth of a Princess:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common-Council assembled.

"Most Gracious Sovereign,

"We wait upon your Majesty with our congratulations on the happy delivery of our most gracious Queen, and on the birth of another Princess; and to assure your Majesty that there are not in all your dominions any subjects more faithful, more dutiful, and more affectionate to your Majesty's person and family, or more ready to sacrifice their lives, and fortunes in the maintenance of the true honour and dignity of your crown.

"Long may your Majesty reign the true guardian of the liberties of this free country, and be the instrument in the hands of providence of transmitting to our posterity those invaluable rights and privileges, which are the birthright of the subjects of this kingdom."

In going, after the Lord-Mayor, Sir Robert Ladbroke, Mr. Alderman Alsop, and Sir W. Stephenson, had passed through Temple-Bar, the gates were suddenly shut against Mr. Alderman Harley (who was next in the procession) by a mob, few in number, who directly began to pelt him with stones and dirt, and pulled him out of his chariot, opposite to the door of the Sun Tavern, into which he was forced to take to preserve his life. After continuing here some time, he went away in a Hackney Coach, with a gentleman who had accompanied him, but not without being followed and insulted by part of the mob that at first beset him.

JUNE 1.

It is certain Lord North and Hillsborough are two of the committee of noblemen which have been appointed to take into consideration the state of Majesty's Dominions on the other side the Atlantic, and the third is supposed to be Lord Barrington.

On Tuesday last Mr. Alderman Wilkes sat two hours in the Bridge-House, Westminster, transacting business, as being one of the Commissioners of the new pavement.

It is an actual truth, notwithstanding the contradiction of it in the papers, that some gentlemen of fortune in the county of Middlesex, are now determined to contest the payment of the land-tax, but their intended mode of refusal is wholly wide of that some time since related in the papers. Their plan is this: On the collector's application for the tax, they are determined to refuse the payment. He, of course, will make a distrainer, agreeable to law; and this they propose quietly to submit to. They then intend bringing an action of damages against the collector, constables, &c. &c. which must then be tried by a Jury, and as it will be by a special Jury of Middlesex Freeholders, it will rest with them to judge whether the county is properly represented or not; and of course, whether the inhabitants of the county are liable to the King's tax or not; and according to that judgment, to determine the merits of this important contest.

JUNE 2.

This nation never yet suffered themselves to be enslaved by such a despicable set of beings as compose the Carlton-House Junto. That infamous cabal, which now rules this land with the iron rod of despotism, would bring disgrace even upon the name of courtiers. They are men whom no considerations of future punishment can deter, nor any compunctions of honour and conscience dissuade from the practice of corruption and iniquity. With a parliament entirely at their devotion, and a standing army at command, they bid defiance to a free people, and commit actions which vice itself almost blushes at. They at present affect to disregard the voice of the people, hitherto conveyed in the gentle strain of petition. They must surely imagine that the people are as regardless of their rights as they themselves are deaf to the united voice of reason and self-preservation; but Quem Deus vult perdere prius dementat. The loud voice of a free and mighty nation will one day thunder in their ears these great, but to them, melancholly truths, never to despise the complaints of Englishmen; for as their liberties were obtained at no less a price than the best blood of their ancestors, by the best blood of their descendants they shall be maintained inviolate.

A general summons of the Privy-Council was issued out for their meeting yesterday at one o'clock, when it is said some affairs relating to the military were to be taken into consideration.

JUNE 4.

On Friday, when the committee appointed to wait upon Lord Chatham, attended his Lordship, at his house in Pall-Mall, Sir William Stephenson, in the name of the committee, addressed his Lordship to this effect:

"My Lord,

"WE have the pleasing satisfaction to deliver to your Lordship, the grateful thanks of the Citizens of London, for your Lordship's most eminent public services; and we sincerely congratulate your Lordship, on being equally distinguished in the direction of a glorious war, and in your endeavours to restore the principles of our most excellent constitution."

And then he presented the thanks of the Common council, which are as follows:

BECKFORD, MAYOR.

A Common-Council, holden in the Chamber of the Guildhall of the city of London, on Monday the 14th of May, 1770.

A motion was made, and question put, 'That the grateful thanks of this court be presented to the Right Honourable William Earl of Chatham, for the zeal he has shewn in support of those most valuable and sacred privileges, the right of election, and the right of petition; and for his wishes and declaration, that his endeavours shall hereafter be used, that parliaments may be restored to their original purity, by shortening their duration, and introducing a more full and equal representation; an act which will render his name more honoured by posterity, than the memorable successes of the glorious war he conducted;' the same was resolved in the affirmative, and ordered accordingly.

It is ordered that the said resolution be fairly transcribed, and signed by the Town-Clerk, and presented to his Lordship by Sir William Stephenson, Knt. Barlow Trecothick, Brass Crosby, Esqrs. Aldermen, and James Townsend, Esq; Alderman, and one of the Sheriffs of this city, George Bellas, Esq; Mr. Deputy Thomas Cocksedge, Mr. Deputy William Judd, Samuel Freeman, Esq; Mr. Arthur Beardmore, Mr. James Shapp, Mr. Deputy Richard Townsend, and Mr. John Anderson, commoners.

HODGES.

To which his Lordship was pleased immediately to reply:

GENTLEMEN,

"IT is not easy for me to give expression to all I feel, on the extraordinary honour done to my public conduct by the City of London; a body so highly respectable on every account; but above all, for their constant assertion of the birth-rights of Englishmen, in every great crisis of the constitution.

"In our present unhappy situation my duty shall be, on all proper occasions, to add the zealous endeavours of an individual to those legal exertions of constitutional rights, which, to their everlasting honour, the city of London has made in defence of freedom of election, and freedom of petition, and for obtaining effectual reparation to the electors of Great-Britain.

"As to one point among the declarations which I am understood to have made, of my wishes for the public, permit me to say there has been some misapprehension; for with all my deference to the sentiments of the city, I am bound to declare, that I cannot recommend triennial parliaments as a remedy against that canker in the constitution, venality in elections; ready to submit my opinion to better judgment, if the wish for that measure shall become prevalent in the kingdom.

"Purity of parliament is the corner-stone in the common-wealth; and, as one obvious means towards this necessary end is, to strengthen and extend the natural relation between the constituents and the elected, I have, in this view, publicly expressed my earnest wishes for a more full and equal representation, by the addition of one Knight of the Shire in a county, as a farther balance to the mercenary boroughs. I have thrown out this idea with the just diffidence of a private man, when he presumes to suggest any thing new on a high matter. Animated by your approbation, I shall with better hope, continue humbly to submit it to the public wisdom, as an object to be most deliberately weighed, accurately examined, and maturely digested.

"Having many times, when in the service of the Crown, and when retired from it, experienced, with gratitude, the favour of my fellow-citizens, I am now particularly fortunate that, with their good liking, I can offer any thing towards upholding this wisely-combined frame of mixed government against the decays of time, and the deviations incident to all human institutions; and I shall esteem my life honoured indeed if the city of London can vouchsafe to think that my endeavours have not been wanting to maintain the national honour, to defend the colonies, and extend the commercial greatness of my country, as well as to preserve from violation the law of the land, and the essential rights of the constitution."

Saturday came on at Westminster-hall, the trial of Mr. Almon, for selling the London Museum, in which was contained Junius's letter; when the jury found him guilty, after being out two hours and a half.

It is said that Mr. Almon intends to move for a new trial.

JUNE 5.

Last Friday the Right Hon. the Lord-Mayor, the two Sheriffs, Mr. Beardmore, Mr. Bellas, and several others of the Common-council, had a long consultation in one of the appartments at the Old-Bailey, when officers were placed at each door, to keep off every one that should attempt to listen to their conversation.

It has since been reported, that the above consultation was relative to a proposed plan for a petition to be presented by twenty-five barons, agreeable, it is said, to Magna-Charta.

JUNE 6.

The supplies granted by parliament for the present year amounted to 6,943,932l. 16s. 2d. The ways and means to 7,327,656l. 7s. 8d. halfpenny.

Yesterday Lord Holland arrived at Kensington, from Italy.

Jemmy Twitcher is certainly fixed on to go to a neighbouring kingdom, as it is well known he will accept the government on any terms whatever, clean or dirty. And we are assured it has been offered to one of the Secretaries of State [Lord Rochford] but he has absolutely refused it, unless he can go independent of this or any administration whatever.—But that is thought to be a power too great to be vested in the hands of any house man.

It is confidently asserted, that a patriotic Earl has given particular instructions how to proceed further, as the address, petition, and remonstrance have been twice so slightly received.

A Nobleman of distinguished abilities, it is said, will set off (at the instance of a Great Personage) for Boston, in order to inquire into the real cause of the late unhappy disorders of that place.

It is not a fortnight ago since a great man, late at the head of administration of affairs, publicly declared he had now turned his back on the ministry, and washed his hands of all government concerns.

JUNE 7.

At the end of the session before the last, Lord North mouthed away a deal of firmness in the house, "that he would not indulge America till she was at our feet." One would suppose he meant to frighten America by an idea of his stoutness and firmness. No such thing, he wanted only to get the character of firmness at home in the house; while, with a school-boy cunning, he meditated at the very moment of his bullying, to avail himself in America of all those lenient and gentle methods which he affected to disclaim in the house.. It is a fact, that the session was not three days over when the principal American merchants were sent to, and instructed to make liberal professions in the name of administration to the Americans.

Lockhart Gordon, Esq; is appointed Governor of Massachusetts-Bay, and not William Ducane, Esq; as was reported.

Lord Holland landed at his seat in Kingsgate, from Dieppe, about 3 o'clock on the day that the parliament was up; not chusing to trust himself in England sooner; his Lordship has been seen at Margate, from whence he last arrived.

Mr. Wilkes who retired from the Court of King's-Bench to Oliver's coffee-house, during the recess of the jury on Saturday last was accosted by an acquaintance there, "Well, Sir, guilty, or not guilty? "Guilty, I fear," replies Mr. Wilkes, "if the jury pay any attention to their lesson.

We hear that the Earl of Bute is expected in town from abroad in a few days.

Extract of a private letter from the Hague, May 29.

"Some few weeks ago, the French papers took notice, that two of the principal clerks of a noted banker at Paris, were suddenly dismissed, though one had served with reputation for sixteen years, the other for eight; but the reason for their sudden dismission was not then publicly known. It has since, however, been given out, that it has been discovered, that those two gentlemen had talked too freely in conversation concerning the destination of some very large remittances that had been made to England before the conclusion of the late peace; and that, from their discourse, some of the first quality in England, had been mistrusted of betraying the interests of their country for the lucre of French gold."

JUNE 8.

It is said that a great personage did not seem to be in his usual good humour when he entered the Ball-room at St. James's on his birth-night, which is attributed to his finding it much thinner than usual.

It is now said to be agreed on by all parties, that Lord Sandwich will have the government of Ireland; and it is confidently said, his Lordship will set out for Dublin before the end of the month; advice having been sent to Lord Townsend.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Macaulay, the celebrated historian (with a select party of her friends) was entertained on board the ship Dutchess of Gordon, Capt. Winn; on which occasion the ship was decorated with a prodigious number of flags and streamers, disposed in an elegant manner: On the ensign-staff was displayed a large emplematical flag, on which was depicted Liberty with her insignia, supported on the one hand by the Historic Muse crowned by a Fame, and on the other by Fortitude, with an inscription. As soon as the company embarked, the music in the barge played Handel's Water-piece, 'till they came under the ship's stern, when it ceased, and the band in the ship begun with The Hero-comes, 'till Mrs. Macaulay was on board, and then changed to Rule Britannia; on her entering the cabin she was saluted by a discharge of cannon.—Capt. Winn had designed a grand illumination on board his ship, in honour of his illustrious visitor, which was omitted by her particular request.

Letters from Vienna mention, that the Emperor, in order the better to discover the disposition of his subjects towards his government, and particularly their opinions of the ministers employed by him, as well as from other motives of important curiosity, frequently makes it a practice to traverse the city of Vienna, and its environs, in disguise, and thus unknown, mix himself with the parties and companies of every rank of people: By virtue of which, several of their complaints, which he has found to be just, have been instantly remedied.

We are assured, from very good authority, that the Emperor of Germany proposes visiting England some time in the latter end of August, or the beginning of September next.

JUNE 9.

Yesterday morning, about half past six o'clock, her Royal Highness the Princess Dowager of Wales set out, with a grand retinue, from Carlton-house, Pall-mall, for Dover, in order to embark for France. She was accompanied by the Duke of Gloucester, and attended by Lord Boston, Chamberlain of the Household, Lady Howe, one of the Ladies of her Bed chamber, Miss Reynolds, and Miss Heineken, Dressing-women to her Royal Highness. It was thirty-four years, the latter end of April last, since her Royal Highness first landed in England in 1736.

We are authorised to assure the public, that Sir Francis Bernard, Baronet, is not superceded in the government of Massachusetts-Bay, and that Thomas Hutchinson, Esq; continues Lieutenant-Governor, and Chief-Justice of that province; notwithstanding repeated reports to the contrary.

We hear that many bets are made on the return of a certain Great Lady; the odds are against her visiting this kingdom again.

JUNE 11.

Yesterday a messenger arrived at the Queen's house from Dover, who brought an account of the safe arrival of her Royal Highness the Princess Dowager of Wales at that place, and of her embarkation on board the yacht on Saturday, which immediately sailed for Calais.

A correspondent has sent us the following political intelligence.—"The real and final arrangement of the C——n house junto, during the absence of a great Lady, which was settled about three nights ago, is as follows; James Stuart Mackenzie, Esq; brother to the Earl of Bute, to be the first and grand director of the whole; Sir Gilbert Elliot, Bart. Jeremiah Dyson, Esq; Charles Jenkinson, Esq; and her Grace the Duchess of Bedford, to be the grand council; and Lord North, Lord Holland, Sir James Lowther, &c. &c. to assist occasionally."

On Friday evening, after his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland had set out for Windsor lodge, an express was sent to inform him, that his Majesty desired his attendance at the Queen's palace; whither he came, and had a long conference with his Majesty.

Yesterday his Grace the Duke of Grafton was at court, and afterwards had the honour of a conference with his Majesty.

When it was first proposed to take the sense of the county of Surry, on the subject of a remonstrance, it is said, some gentlemen were of opinion, that it would be best to start the subject at Guilford, without giving any previous intimations about it: Sir Joseph Mawbey, in answer, declared, that he disliked a pocket remonstrance as much as a pocket address, and therefore insisted on giving notice in all the public papers, that it might be seen and known who were friends to public liberty, and whether any independent man would be bold enough, in the face of his country, to defend a measure subversive of every principle of constitutional freedom.

It was hoped and expected, that Sir Fletcher Norton, Mr. Onslow, Colonel Onslow, and Mr. Dyson, would have met the remonstrants of the county of Surry at Guildford, and have vindicated the proceedings of the House of Commons, and their own, in respect to the Middlesex election; but neither of the three former appeared at all, and Mr. Dyson, finding himself unsupported, left the town before the question came under consideration.

The Duke of Grafton and Lord North have certainly differed very much within these few days about disposing of a place in the custom-house.

It is reported that the extraordinary step intended to be taken by the Middlesex freeholders, of refusing to pay the land tax, has already occasioned divers councils to be held; and that the method of proceeding with the defaulters is said to be resolved on, in case they should put their menaces in execution.

JUNE 12.

A letter from Calais mentions, that her Royal Highness the Princess Dowager of Wales embarked at Dover on Saturday morning at eleven o'clock, and arrived at Calais at four o'clock in the afternoon of the same day in perfect health. At seven o'clock that evening her Royal Highness set out from thence for Brussels.

It is now certain, that Lord Mansfield is the principal adviser of a Great Personage.

It is said the difference subsisting between the Duke of Grafton and Lord North is reconciled, and the place in question given to the person the former recommended.

A certain patriotic Lord has, within these few days, received a very pressing invitation from a Great Personage, from which it is conjectured that very material changes are on the carpet.

We hear the petitioning free burgesses and freeholders of Newcastle have it in agitation to return their grateful thanks to the Right Hon. the Earl of Chatham, for his Lordship's most eminent public services, in supporting the right of election, the right of petition, and for his declaration, that his endeavours shall be hereafter used, that parliaments may be restored to their original purity, &c.

From the St. JAMES's CHRONICLE, JUNE 12.

SIR,

VOLPONE's return to London has thrown the whole ministry into confusion. His illness just held an equal duration with the sitting of parliament. There seems to have been strong sympathy between the last sessions of Parliament and his bodily disorder; when the first broke up, the other, as it were by congenial thaw, instantaneously dissolved away. But with what grace, or with what propriety the cabinet can countenance the reception of an avowed, notorious defaulter of millions, remains to be seen. In every other kingdom but this, the ministry would have laid an embargo upon so enormous an offender; nor have permitted him to have gone out of the kingdom. In no other kingdom but this, would a subject, under such circumstances, have dared to return, when he had once been permitted to make his escape. But it seems Volpone, and the D-w—r, tenant of Carlton-House, cannot very conveniently be both absent from England at one and the same time. What their secrets are, would be difficult to guess, had not Dr. Musgrave, in his examination before the house of commons, let the cat out of the bag. Ever since that critical day, the Thane and Volpone have never ventured their sweet persons in England during the sitting of parliament. There cannot be a stronger argument of guilt, than flight; especially when that flight is made during the sitting of the house of commons, who dismissed Dr. Musgrave's accusation as frivilous, groundless, and malicious. Is it then that the Thane and Volpone both foresaw an absolute necessity of a dissolution of such a parliament, that they deemed it prudent to withdraw themselves out of England a whole twelvemonth before that dissolution could take place? Or were they promised and assured, that no such dissolution should take place till the month of July 1770? And if a dissolution is to take place at that particular time, does it any ways account for her R——l H——ss the P——ss D-w—r of W—s retreating from this country in the month of June? This were too harsh a conclusion; for though Volpone stands stigmatized as the public defaulter of millions, and the Thane is held in execration by nine-tenths of the kingdom, what blame, what offence can be laid to the charge of the fair tenant of C——n-House? Quid meruistis, oves? Dr. Musgrave did not expressly accuse this lady fair by name? No. He only accused a certain lady, mistress to a certain great man, but left a blank in that place where the lady's proper name should have been mentioned; we are, therefore, left at the liberty to fill up that blank with the name of Pompadour, or any other fair lady the cap will best fit. But, without diving into the depths of these mysterious negociations, it is easy to see, that the ministry are all alarmed; and though they are ordered to put the best face they can upon the D-w—r's desertion of this kingdom, and of Volpone's second arrival into it, they cannot gloss over these Arcana Imperii with any honour to themselves, or any satisfaction to the people. The times are critical indeed. But then the whole Metropolis is surrounded with soldiers; and, if it be necessary to awe the people into silence or abject obedience, the ministry have the power in their own hands.

BENJAMIN MATHEWES, Merchant, in Tradd-Street (next Door to Meſſrs. Manſell, Corbett, & Comp. and nearly oppoſite to Samuel Prioleau, Eſq; Controller of the Country Duties) a Subſcriber to the Reſolutions entered into by the Inhabitants of this Province the 22d of July, 1769, having, in January laſt, imported ſundry Goods from London (contained in Fifty Packages) inhibited by the ſaid Reſolutions; having alſo voluntarily agreed to ſtore the ſame, till a general Importation ſhould take Place, by the following Inſtrument, viz.

"I, the Subſcriber, having received ſundry Goods from London, marked M, in a Diamond, No. 1 to 50; and as it is contrary to the true Intent and Meaning of the Reſolutions, entered into by the Inhabitants of this Province, that I ſhould diſpoſe of them before the Acts complained of are repealed, do voluntarily agree to ſtore the ſame, at my Loſs and Riſque: and I do hereby promiſe, to ſee them forth-coming to the General Committee when a general Importation takes Place in this Province.

WILMINGTON, (CAPE-FEAR) July 11.

At a meeting of the General Committee of the SONS of LIBERTY upon Cape-Fear, in Wilmington, the 5th day of July, Cornelius Harnett, Esq; was choſen Chairman, and the following RESOLUTIONS unanimouſly agreed on, viz.

I. RESOLVED, That the following anſwer to the letter received from the Sons of Liberty in South-Carolina, of the 25th of April laſt, be ſigned by the Chairman, and ſent by the firſt conveyance.

To the SONS of LIBERTY, in SOUTH-CAROLINA.

GENTLEMEN,

YOUR favour of the 25th of April laſt, was laid before the Sons of Liberty upon Cape-Fear, at a general meeting in this town, on the ſecond of laſt month, and received with the higheſt ſatisfaction.

We have the pleaſure to inform you, that many of the principal inhabitants of ſix large and populous counties attended, when it was unanimouſly agreed, to keep ſtrictly to the non-importation agreement entered into the laſt fall, and to co-operate with our ſiſter-colonies, in every legal meaſure for obtaining ample redreſs of the grievances ſo juſtly complained of,

Happy ſhould we have thought ourſelves, if our merchants in general, would have followed the diſintereſted and patriotic example of their brethren in the other colonies; we hope, however, their own intereſt will convince them of the neceſſity of importing ſuch articles, and ſuch only, as the planters will purchaſe.

We ſhould have done ourſelves the pleaſure of anſwering your letter much ſooner, but the gentlemen of the committee living at ſuch a diſtance from each other prevented it.

We beg leave to aſſure you, that the inhabitants of thoſe ſix counties, and we doubt not, of every county in this colony, are convinced of the neceſſity of adhering ſtrictly to their former reſolutions, and you may depend, they are as tenacious of their juſt rights as any of their brethren on the continent, and firmly reſolved to ſtand or fall with them in ſupport of the common cauſe of American liberty.

Worthleſs men, as you very juſtly obſerve, are the production of every country, and we are alſo ſo unhappy as to have a few among us, "who have not virtue enough to reſiſt the alurement of preſent gain." Yet we can venture to aſſert, that the people in general of this colony, will be ſpirited and ſteady in ſupport of their rights as Engliſh ſubjects, and will not tamely ſubmit to the yoke of oppreſſion—"But, if by the iron hand of power," they are at laſt cruſhed; it is, however, their fixed reſolution, either to fall with the ſame dignity and ſpirit you ſo juſtly mention, or tranſmit to their poſterity entire, the ineſtimable bleſſings of our free conſtitution.

The diſintereſted and public ſpirited behaviour of the merchants and other inhabitants of your colony, juſtly merits the applauſe of every lover of liberty on the continent. The people of any colony who have not virtue enough to follow ſo glorious an example, muſt be loſt to every ſenſe of freedom, and conſequently deſerve to be ſlaves. We are,

With great truth, GENTLEMEN,

Your affectionate countrymen,

Signed by order of the general committee,

WILMINGTON CAPE-FEAR, July 5, 1770.

II. RESOLVED, That we will ſtrictly and inviolably adhere to the non-importation agreement entered into the 30th day of September laſt, until the grievances therein mentioned are redreſſed.

III. RESOLVED, That we will not, on any pretence whatever, have any dealings or connexion with the inhabitants of the colony of Rhode-Iſland, who contrary to their ſolemn and voluntary contract, have violated their faith pledged to the other colonies, and thereby ſhamefully deſerted the common cauſe of American liberty; and if any of their veſſels or merchants ſhall arrive in Cape-Fear river with intention to trade, we will, to the utmoſt of our power by all legal ways and means prevent any perſon buying from, or ſelling to them, any goods or commodities whatever, unleſs they give full ſatisfaction to the colonies for their baſe and unworthy conduct.

IV. RESOLVED, That the merchants of Newport, Rhode-Iſland, and all others on the continent of North-America, who will not comply with the non-importation agreement, are declared enemies to their country, and ought to be treated in the moſt contemptuous manner.

V. RESOLVED, That we will not purchaſe any kind of goods or merchandize whatever, from any merchant or other perſon who ſhall import or purchaſe goods for ſale contrary to the ſpirit and intention of the ſaid agreement, unleſs ſuch goods be immediately re-ſhipped to the place they were imported from, or ſtored under the inſpection and direction of the committee.

VI. RESOLVED, That the members of the committee for the ſeveral counties in the Wilmington diſtrict, and particularly thoſe for the towns of Wilmington and Brunſwick, do carefully inſpect all importations of goods, and if any ſhall be imported contrary to the true intent and meaning of the ſaid non-importation agreement, that they give public notice thereof in the Cape-Fear MERCURY, with the names of ſuch importers or purchaſers.

VII. RESOLVED, That copies of theſe reſolutions be immediately tranſmitted to all the trading towns in this colony.

The committee of the ſons of liberty upon Cape-Fear, appointed for the town of Wilmington to inſpect into all goods imported, take this opportunity to inform the public, that Mr. Arthur Benning of Duplin county hath imported in the ſloop Lancaſhire Witch from Virginia, a ſmall aſſortment of goods, ſeveral articles of which are not allowed by the non-importation agreement. But it appears at the ſame time to the committee, thoſe goods were expected to arrive before the firſt of January laſt, having been ordered by Mr. Benning ſome time in July laſt, his correſpondent ſent them to Virginia, where they have lain a conſiderable time.

We have the pleaſure to inform the public, that Richard Quince, Eſq; a member of the general committee, and who may with great propriety be deemed a principal merchant, hath joined heartily in the non-importation agreement. It will, no doubt, be looked upon as a very great misfortune to this country, that ſome merchants and others ſeem reſolved not to follow ſo diſintereſted an example; but on the contrary, are daily purchaſing wines and many other articles contrary to the ſaid agreement. Should thoſe gentlemen ſtill perſiſt in a practice ſo deſtructive in its tendency to the liberties of the people of this colony, they muſt not be ſurpriſed, if hereafter the names of the importers and purchaſers ſhould be publiſhed in the Cape-Fear MERCURY. This is intended to ſerve as a friendly admonition: And, it is hoped will be received as ſuch, and have its due effect.

ACCORDING to a Number of private Letters from New-York, if the Party there for an immediate General Importation of Britiſh Goods ſhould, by any Artifice, carry their Point, the Britiſh Merchants who may ſend out their Orders, or themſelves, will run the Riſk of being very great Loſers; for, notwithſtanding what has been or may be inſinuated to the Contrary, (thoſe Letters ſay) the Oppoſition will prove a great Majority, and conſiſt of a Body of Men who will not ſuffer their Virtue or Reſolution to be queſtioned in the Day of Trial.

On Friday laſt, Mr. John Hopton embarked for England, via Oporto, in the Ship Liberty, Capt. John Laſley.

Laſt Saturday Joſeph Jordan, Thomas Dannails, and Edmund James, charged with having ran away with the coaſting Scooner Two Joſephs, belonging to Col. Joſeph Glover, of this Province, her Cargo of Rice, and ſome Slaves belonging to ſaid Glover, arrived here, in Irons, from Dominica, in the Sloop Thomas & Anthony, Capt. Solomon Gibbs; and after being examined, were immediately committed to the Common Jail.

Mr. Charles Atkins, Mr. William Webb, Mr. Samuel Legaré, Mr. William Baker (of Pompon) and Family, Mr. Robert Miles, Mr. John Dart, and ſeveral other Paſſengers, embarked for New-York laſt Saturday, in the Sloop Sally, Capt. Schermerhorn.

The GENERAL ASSEMBLY of this Province is to meet and ſit, for the Diſpatch of Buſineſs, on Tueſday next.

It is very remarkable, and ſome odd Conjectures are formed from, the Arrival of a Number of Spaniſh Veſſels, all at once, in the SEVERAL Ports of this and the neighbouring Provinces, viz. one at Sunbury and one at Savannah, the only Ports in GEORGIA; one at Beaufort, Port-Royal, two here, and one at George-Town, Winyah, ALL the Ports in this Province; and perhaps ſome may be alſo arrived in every Port Northward of us. They are all from Campeachy, and the Number ſailed from thence for this Continent, at one Time is, by ſome, ſaid to be 17, by others no leſs than 30. A Famine dreaded throughout the Spaniſh Provinces in and near the Gulph of Mexico, where a 13-Months Drought is ſaid to have prevailed, is the Pretence for their viſiting theſe Parts, in Queſt of Proviſions; but does not their entering every Port look ſuſpicious? We know not, what is doing at the Havanna,—we know, that the Spaniards have tampered lately with the Creek and other Indians——we know the State of all the Fortifications in this Province—and we know, that the Spaniards do not allow theirs to be viewed, and the Navigation of their Rivers to be explored, by Foreigners.

We learn, by recent Letters from New-Bourdeaux, at the Long-Canes, that that Settlement promiſes fair to become, in a few Years, one of the moſt flouriſhing in this Province; an Inſtance of which is given, in the Growth of Vine Slips, planted the 12th of May laſt, no leſs than Five Feet in Ten Weeks.

"Laſt Tueſday died, after a ſhort Illneſs, in the 24th Year of his Age, "Doct. JAMES DISHINGTON, whoſe good Senſe and courteous Beha-"viour, rendered him greatly eſteemed in Life, and equally regretted in "Death.

"What Day, what Hour, but knocks at human Hearts,
"To wake the Soul to Senſe of future Scenes?
"Deaths ſtand, like Mercurys, in every Way;
"And kindly point us to our Journey's End."

YOUNG.

The ſame Day died, Mr. John Dodd, Gunſmith.

This Day arrived here, in 52 Days from Falmouth, the Brigantine Le Deſpencer Packet-Boat, commanded by Capt. William Talbot, with the Britiſh Mails.
